SEMI-ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF THE PALOMAR PROPERTY OWNERS

Palomar Park in 1940 by Daniel Petlin

Palomar Park's developer, A.J. Harwood, envisioned our Hill as another "Hillsborough". Our Hill was known as "Rattlesnake Hill" in the early part of the century. The first summer cottages were built in the early 1920s as vacation homes for residents escaping the cold summers in San Francisco. During World War II, residents gathered at a farm (now part of Belle Roches Estates) to support the troops making blankets and other items to support the U.S. military. From 1942 to 1945, Palomar Park residents covered their windows in black cloth and a warden went around the Hill to make sure there was a "blackout" as an air raid precaution. The Palomar Park

Garden Club was founded in 1948 and has been involved in many projects, including signs, mailboxes, social events, cookbooks, and even Christmas bazaars. In 1956 the formation of the Palomar Park Property Owners association was incorporated and affixed with the Great Seal of the State of California. There was a horse ranch situated on the site that is now Clifford School. The Palomar Park Volunteer Fire Department was founded in 1972, with a rescue truck, a fire engine and station on 178 South Palomar Dr. The department was retired in 2000. At one time Cervantes Rd. had a private entry gate and a woman sat beside the gate with a rifle.

After tremendous rainfall in the 50's and again in the 70' and 80's and as recent as 2018 there were large landslides, some which destroyed homes and making the front page news of the SF Chronicle.

PALOMAR PARK PICNIC RETURNS WITH RECORD ATTENDANCE

After a two-year hiatus, Palomar Park's annual summer picnic tradition returned on September 19th at Clifford Elementary School with nearly a third of the Hill's residents in attendance. Following the BBQ and potluck, the PPO Board raffled off Palomar Park items such as the Palomar Park Cookbook and history DVD. The youngest attendees met new friends during games on the field, veteran residents reconnected, and the newest Palomar Park members met their neighbors. All enjoyed live music by accordion virtuoso Rich Landi. A 2023 summer picnic is in the works and watch for a save the date notice. The picnic is free to all paid members of the PPO. Renew your dues now if you want free admission to this year's event.

A special thanks to BBQ masters Jeff Garratt and Danny Woerz for grilling hamburgers and hotdogs for the large crowd and a broader thank you to the community for ensuring the connections that make Palomar Park more than just a beautiful place to live.

If you would like to help volunteer please contact the PPO Board at PalomarNews@gmail.com

We truly live up to our motto; An exceptional place with exceptional people.

DIY OR CONTRACTORS YOU CAN TRUST

For many of us finding a good contractor is an overwhelming task. Homeowners need to be very careful when hiring contractors. Always verify a contractor's license with the CA License Board

License Board: www.cslb.ca.gov

DIY projects are becoming more popular with homeowners. Why not try your hand at doing a few simple projects on your own? Start out easy and focus on maintenance type projects, i.e. fixing sprinklers, replacing your furnace filters, replacing weather stripping or door sweeps, replacing decking boards, or repairing your fence. You tube is a wonderful source for videos on how to do just about everything.

RECORD RAIN SATURATES HILLSIDES

Landslides are a familiar thing in Palomar Park. We have had our share over the years, some of them being extremely destructive. These type of torrential and long lasting rains can play havoc on our hillsides. Most of us try and ensure preventive measures are in place for proper drainage. Here are some reminders and tips:

DO:

- *Maintain roof gutters & downspouts
- *Consider installing gutter guard to protect your gutters from being clogged with debris
- *Clean your catch basins
- *Make sure your sprinklers are off
- *Test sump pumps & even have a spare
- *Clean culverts near your home (don't rely on SMC)
- *Install flexible drain pipe to transport storm water from downspouts to drainage swales or creeks
- *Check on your septic and leachfield to make sure it's working properly and not overwhelmed
- *If you have a landslide think about placing a tarp over it to temporarily control it

DON'T

- *Don't allow your storm water to be directed onto your neighbor's property
- *Don't direct storm water to the base of your trees
- *Don't direct storm water onto your leachfield
- *Don't dig up hillsides or allow them to be bare of vegetation during the rainy season. (Think about seeding your hillside & creating a wildflower, clover or native grass meadow)

SMC RAIN BARREL REBATE PROGRAM

Even with the large quantity of December & January rainfall, conserving water is important. Did you know rain barrels are one of the best ways to save money and conserve water by cutting back potable water used for irrigation? You can capture about 312 gallons of water for every half-inch of rain that falls on a 1,000 square foot roof, an amount that can be then used to water plants.

Learn about the benefits of owning a rain barrel and how to receive up to $200 from San Mateo County by visiting; www.flowstobay.org

WHO WHO...OWLS THAT'S WHO

Winter is the time of year that our Palomar Park owls look for their mates. You will hear them calling back and forth to one another. After dark, you may be lucky enough to hear their mesmerizing call. It sometimes can sooth you to sleep (for the insomniacs of Palomar Park). Owls play a large role in our rodent control here on the Hill.

Barn owl

If you hate rats and moles around your home then think about making it a little easier and more attractive for owls to hunt in your backyard.

- ❖ Think about adding an owl house to your property (There are many online sources for owl houses)
- ❖ Keep flood and other lights off that shine into your backyard hunting ground. Owls need it dark for their eyes to be able to see the movement of rodents. Unlike humans, owls can see in the dark.
- ❖ Do not use rat poison. If an owl eats a poisoned rat they can absorb the poison from the dead rodent.
- ❖ There are several types of owls in Palomar Park; Great Horned, Screech and sometimes Barn owls (these are the white ones)

2023 BOARD ELECTION RESULTS

During the November 2022 General PPO zoom meeting we announced the results of the 2023 PPO Board election. Only incumbents were on the ballot and if your'e interested in potentially running for a seat on the PPO Board for next year please contact President Rich Landi for an official nomination. The Board meets once a month and has several committees that we are always looking for volunteer help with. CONGRATULATIONS TO:

Rich Landi 2023/2025 term
Nell Triplett 2023/2025 term
Dan Petelin 2023/2025 term

PALOMAR PARK IS CHANGING

Lets talk about the good, the bad and the ugly. Palomar Park is a nostalgic community. A small enclave, almost lost in time, amongst the lush hills of semi-rural San Mateo County. We aren't perfect and we have some short comings, like our various non-maintained roads. Long ago, the County of San Mateo did not accept some of our roads as public roads they would maintain. All the reasons why they weren't accepted remains somewhat of a mystery. For those residents living on these roads it can be frustrating and bumpy to say the least. Some of these roads are literally falling apart. New home remodels and new construction in our community has put tremendous pressure on our roads as well as our patience, as large construction vehicles barrel through our neighborhoods. These heavy, oversized vehicles put a large amount of wear and tear on our roads, creating pot holes and eroding pavement. SMC Public works has not addressed the Palomar Park roads in quite a while and many of the supposedly maintained roads are not in good shape either. Every time a building permit is issued the applicant is required to pay "Road Impact Fees" Why are we experiencing so much construction in Palomar Park and yet not benefiting from our community generated Road Impact fees which are suppose to pay for road repair and maintenance?

The PPO Board has lobbied Public Works to do more maintenance, however we need your help. If you live on a road that needs maintenance, contact the SMC Public Works and request road maintenance. Sending pictures and the exact location is always helpful.

Anne Stillman Public Works Director - astillman@smcgov.org

Khoa Vo Roads Director - dvo1@smcgov.org

Dist. 3 Supervisor Ray Mueller - rmueller@smcgov.org

A few of the unmaintained roads have residents living on them who have banded together to seal and maintain their roads, i.e. Palomar Dr., Cervantes, and Belle Roche. If interested in getting something organized on your road contact Board member Bob Bedbury for further information on how they did it.
